The technical surveillance on Maurice Halperin, a subject in this case, showed a call at 5:45 p.m., December 19, 1945, from one Carl who works under Halperin in the OSS group which has recently been assigned to the State Department (X) (U)

The conversation indicated that Carl and Halperin were working on a survey concerning Argentina, possibly at the request of Carl Spaeth of Mr. Braden's Office in the State Department. The unknown Carl who phoned Halperin stated that one Lois in the American Republics Analysis and Liaison Office of the State Department had given to him an F.B.I. report indicated to deal with the HDZ decodes and mentioning Plinio Salgado, the Brazilian Green Shirt. Halperin was greatly amused that this material had come into the hands of his assistant, who called Spaeth after receiving it and pointed out that the project they were working on was a duplication of the F.B.I. report and that they had been working in the dark. Halperin stated the F.B.I. report made the whole project ridiculous, and his subordinate Carl stated that this was something which might interest McCormick (X) (U)

The report mentioned has been identified by Mr. Carson's Section as "A Short Study of Axis Espionage" dated February 7, 1945. This was furnished on a strictly confidential basis to Avra Warren in the State Department, with copies to Carl Spaeth and to Frederick Lyon. I have been advised that the original of this memorandum could not be located at the State Department in October, 1945 (X) (U)

HARRIS WOULD ALSO WITHDRAW CERTAIN SUMS FROM THIS DEPOSITORY WHICH WERE BELIEVED BY BENTLEY TO BE COMMUNIST PARTY FUNDS RATHER THAN PERSONAL FUNDS OF HARRIS. BENTLEY HAD KNOWN OF THESE ACTIVITIES AND CONTINUED THIS ARRANGEMENT ON INSTRUCTIONS OF REYNOLDS AFTER THE LATTER COMMENCED ACTIVE DUTY WITH US ARMY. HARRIS DISCONTINUED USING THIS DEPOSITORY IN SPRING OF NINETEEN HUNDRED FORTY FIVE AT TIME WHEN RUSSIANS INDICATED THEY WERE GOING TO TAKE OVER U. S. SERVICE AND SHIPPING CORPORATION. REYNOLDS SAW AL IN JUNE NINETEEN HUNDRED FORTY FIVE IN NYC AND MET HIM THROUGH INTRODUCTION BY BENTLEY WHO USED FICTITIOUS NAME FOR AL AT THIS TIME. BENTLEY WAS NOT PRESENT DURING THIS MEETING BUT REYNOLDS LATER TOLD HER THAT AL MADE INQUIRIES CONCERNING REYNOLDS AND HIS WIFE-S FINANCIAL STATUS AND ALSO INDICATED THAT U. S. SERVICE AND SHIPPING CORPORATION SHOULD BECOME A SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS VENTURE. AL WAS TO COMMUNICATE WITH REYNOLDS IN THREE WEEKS WHICH HE FAILED TO DO. AL IN A LATER MEETING WITH BENTLEY TOLD HER HE HAD NO FURTHER DESIRE TO MEET OR ASSOCIATE WITH REYNOLDS, MANIFESTED COMTEMPTUOUS ATTITUDE TOWARD REYNOLDS AND SO FAR AS BENTLEY KNOWS, AL HAS NEVER SEEN REYNOLDS SINCE HIS MEETING IN JUNE, NINETEEN HUNDRED FORTY FIVE. At the above time, Special Agent James Kirkland of the New York Division telephonically communicated with Supervisor W. M. Morris and advised that with respect to the leased line letter dated December 21, 1945, received in the office, he wanted to inform the Bureau that through excusable error on the part of one of the clerical employees, the letter to be transmitted to the telephone official had been stamped with the New York Division stamp and consequently was of no use for this purpose. He further stated that this action would have had no effect as far as delay was concerned inasmuch as the individual to whom the letter was to be transmitted would not be available until Wednesday of next week (January 2, 1946). He requested to be furnished with a duplicate of the letter referred to.

KAHN to GEORGE

K: This is Albert.
G: Yes Albert.

K: How are you?
G: I'm ok.

K: You snow bound?
G: Oh we have 4 inches or 6 inches.

K: Yeah, well I was just reading an insert to an issue of Fact, so I thought I'd call you.
G: Which issue?

K: Well it's the last issue.
G: About the Readers' Digest?

K: Yeah.
G: Yeah.

K: And what I'm calling you is it reminded me of this thing I have been intending to get to you in quite a while. I had a little difficulty in tracking it down again and I had to get a copy. I want to tell you now what it is and I think it's a very hot story. In fact I have always thought it was one of the biggest stories of the war but it was completely suppressed. The story is this, a long time ago, oh in 1942 or 3, the FBI, the Department of Justice anyway, got hold of what amounted in my opinion anyway, documentary proof of the fact that Father Coughlin was a Nazi agent. Now the proof was this, a fellow by the name of Poleponko, who was the Ukrainian Fascist agent, who was working with the Nazis and who had come here from South America. He was a guy, I'll identify him for you, he helped break up, or one of the leading spy rings here, the Vonsiastesky spy ring. This guy Poleponko turned state witness, they claimed they had planted him in the ring, but that wasn't true. I have been following this guy myself for quite a while and he was working with the Nazis. Well in addition to breaking up that ring, the details of which are quite interesting because they never believed him when he came to them with the original story on Vonsiastesky. They were going to deport him, but in addition, (very inaud.) and they used him. He appeared as a witness in the case and everything. He also provided them with an affidavit regarding his dealings with Coughlin which I think is conclusive proof of Coughlin's working with the Nazis. I mean Coughlin, I mean they discussed the money Coughlin was getting and so on. Now I have a copy of the affidavit which I will give you. Now the thing is this, I mean it can be blown up I think as quite a story. I mean the man is a war criminal, at least a traitor.

G: It's better than that, then I have the other side of the story. Listen, do you know that the United States Army has got the list of, not only every member of the Nazi party in Germany, but every pro-Nazi in the whole world?

K: Yes, I read that.
G: Where did you read it?

K: Well it was either in, did I read it in Fact?
G: No, you read in PM a letter from Mr. Bernstein.

K: Was it only in PM?
G: In PM there was something called, A Letter of Walter Bernstein to General So and So.

K: Yes I read that, I know I read that. I think I also saw mention of it in Germany Today.
G: Oh that I don't know but actually I got it in the London Express of an old copy which a fellow forwarded to me which I got the other day and it's one of the most amazing stories I ever came across. It tells exactly how a police officer named Walter somebody of Portland, Oregon grabbed ahold of the filing cases which had 12,000,000 index cards, the list of every member of the Nazi party, everybody who was fired of the Nazi party for not killing enough people or collecting enough winterhelser (?), and the list is every pro-Nazi in every pro-Nazi organization in the United States, Great Britain and so on including Lords and big shots. Now the whole thing is being suppressed by the United States Army and I was gonna publish it next week.

K: Well you can have this on Monday or Tuesday. There's one problem in connection with it, do you remember the affidavit you previously published about that secret meeting you know?
G: Yeah.

K: I think you may have to handle this in the same way.
G: Meaning?

K: You know you left out names, but you made it very clear how you, clear who you were talking about.
G: I left out Vandenberg and Sloane's name.

K: Yeah, now I think in this particular case, you'll have to discuss that with your lawyer. You see Poleponko is a guy who might not be relied upon as a witness, as a libel witness. He's scared stiff of the authorities. He can be spirited away, in fact he was spirited away acouple of times.
G: But this is a document signed by a Notary Public.

CONFIDENTIAL

K: But that doesn't proof anything.
O: Well it's something.

K: Well if he is like, if he turns around and says, well it wasn't true, I just made that up to sell it. Then you're lost, you see, you look it over and see.
O: Yeah.

K: And you'll have to decide on the basis of it.
O: Yeah, well look Albert, be sure you mail it to me here will you?

K: Ok, yeah well I'll mail it to you that's good.
O: Grismill Road (ph.).

K: Well I have your address.
O: Unless you're in New York City and you give it to Helen.

K: Well I'll do one of the two. I'll be in on Monday. I go in pretty often now.
O: Yeah, well now look.

K: Incidentally, I'm not gonna send you the actual affidavit nor do I have the actual affidavit at the moment.
O: Oh newthat's bad.

K: Well my text was copied last, I mean I was there and it was copied from the affidavit, I had the affidavit in my hands. I don't want to go into the story about the affidavit itself on the telephone but the person who has it in his possession, who's a good friend of mine, I have to give him my word that for various reasons I won't make a copy of it, you see.
O: Now what are we gonna have to go on then?

K: Well it depends, I mean if you meant, the affidavit as far as I'm concerned adds nothing to the story. You can have for example my word that the story was given to me by Kolopenko.
O: Now wait a minute, will you sign the story?

K: The actual story?
O: Yeah.

K: I would if you wanted, sure.
O: Ok, if you sign it it's ok.

K: But.....
O: I'll put in a couple of words about your book too.

CONFIDENTIAL

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

K: Yeah, but it's my feeling George that I still feel your lawyer will say that the name of the guy will have to be left out. I think it's just as good a story any way.
G: Not if nobody's name is mentioned at all, it's not a good story at all.

K: You mean the fact that a well known priest in Detroit, I mean you're practically gonna identify the guy, the story practically identifies him. You see when you read it. I mean it tells, it's a terrific story. He goes to the little flower you see, meets with him.
G: Yeah but who goes?

K: Well you can use Pelepenko's name.
G: Well alright then, look.....

K: But I'm talking about Coughlan's name.
G: Oh I don't care, I'll put Coughlan's name in the headlines. I'm not afraid of Coughlin.

K: Well he's the only guy who could sue. Pelepenko could.....
G: I'm absolutely not afraid of him. He's now scared to death by his own bishop.

K: Oh well Pelepenko wouldn't sue you because Pelepenko sold this story. I mean he went around and tried to market it. The thing is this, that the government agents after they found out that he had tried to get rid of this affidavit elsewhere in order to sell it, they went around and tried to pick up all the copies because they were trying to protect Coughlin apparently. I mean the thing is, he mentioned a lot of other names in it of different contacts we had through Coughlin of other Nazis agents. I would suggest using initials and things like that with them because you can't tell where he might have been careless. You know, but the guy, I mean he visits the Nazi Consul in Detroit and everything. He was a big shot of the Nazi movement and everything. This fellow Pelepenko, one of their key guys here and what happened, I mean I know the whole history of the guy. You see I was specializing then in the Ukrainian field and he came in, he started to work with Vonsiastasky and with Kunser (ph.). I mean he acted as a go between with the White Russians and the Nazis and so on. Now he went to the FBI and told them that Vonsiastasky was a German agent. He got scared and wanted to squeal and he went to them and he told them this, and he told them that he had been present when Vonsiastasky had turned over something like 10,000 or 15,000 dollars to Pekunsky (ph.) for espionage work. So the Department of Justice guys looked him up immediately, Pelepenko and took him down here to Ellis Island and were about to deport him. They didn't believe a word of what he said. In the meantime, Vonsiastasky was picked up on another charge and when they came to his house one of the guys who was there questioning him, as a matter of fact, Thomas Dodd (ph.) the guy who is over in Nuremburg now, one of the prosecuting attorneys for the United States. He went to Vonsiastasky's house and quite casually in the conversation, remembering this tale he had heard of Peleponko's, he just tossed it in casually. He said, what about that meeting you had with Peleponko and Kunser, where you gave Kunser $15,000 for such and such work, and Vonsiastasky without turning a hair blabbed out the whole story. He said, oh that s-- o- b----, he never did what he was meant to do and so on and so forth. Well then these dopes, they wired down to Ellis Island, don't deport this guy, he's gonna be our key witness. You see and they brought a completely different case against Vonsiastasky which broke up the whole spy ring. Now this is the guy. There's no questioning his tie-ups.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

G: Yeah, look Albert, you know what I wish you would do, would you write me the whole story put your name on it, by the author of, and I'll put down all the books and so forth and I'll take the things to the lawyer, and if we leave out or put a few blanks, ok. But nevertheless, I wish you would write me the whole thing.

K: Yeah.
G: Everything.

K: Ok.
G: I mean no matter how big it is. I mean I can use a whole issue on it if it's big enough.

K: Well the affidavit is very dramatic.
G: Well I say you can't use it in the form of an affidavit.

K: Yes you can.
G: You mean put down SS, County of so and so, before me appeared and so forth?

K: I think I can get all that.
G: If you can put that in as an affidavit, as a document it's very impressive.

K: Yes, I think I can get all that.
G: Well look, it's up to you.

K: Well I'll try and get that for you.
G: Alright, look I'll sort of rely on it for the week after this.

K: Yeah, and anyway you may want to re-write what, I'll just dictate.
G: No, you can do a better job than I can.

K: Well I'll just dictate a couple of paragraphs leading in about who the guy is and everything and the fact that this material has been in the hands of the Department of Justice and as far as I knowsothing has been done about it and that I finally happened to get another copy of it.
G: Yeah, well you do it up good for me and I'll run a special issue on it.

K: Yeah, well now the main thing will be George to, on the libel question, I know that I personally don't want a libel suit to start.
G: You don't.

K: No, I mean we could discuss that.
G: I'll take this into my lawyer Nathan Witt and he's a swell person.

K: Yeah I know he is.
G: And we'll take it into him and we'll go by his judgement.

K: Ok, I think maybe when you look it over I think the thing can be handled in a pretty sensational way anyway.
G: Alright.

K: Ok.
G: Listen, have you got a copy of my book, The Catholic Crisis?

K: I haven't and it's something I have always wanted.
G: You shall get a copy by the next mail.

K: That's swell, I here you printed it up didn't you?
G: I printed it myself.

K: That's wonderful. I've heard so much about it, as a matter of fact I've looked through it once and I think it's terrific, but I have never read it through.
G: It's a book of evidence.

K: Yeah I know, I thought of that when I saw it.
G: And you never returned my wolfin (?) file did you?

K: Sure.
G: You did?

K: Yeah.
G: Well I couldn't find it. I looked for it yesterday and couldn't find it so I must have given it to somebody else.

K: No, I returned it.
G: Ok, then I gave it to somebody else. Alright Albert I'm relying on you to send me this whole story and do it up in your best manner.

K: Ok, I'll get it off to you on Monday or Tuesday.
G: Alright, mail it to me here, or deliver it Monday to my wife or mail it to me to this house.

K: Ok George, good bye.
G: Alright, good bye!

RE: N. GREGORY SILVERMASTER

ADAM ZAYDMAN (~~GOLDBERG~~), a suspect in this investigation, arrived in Mexico City on Flight 505 of Pan American Airways from Brownsville, Texas at 1:10 p.m. on November 25, 1945. He was met at the Mexico City airport by his brother, who goes under the name of MAURICIO ZAIDMAN. ZAYDMAN was required to deposit a bond of 1,500 pesos with the Mexico Office of Immigration to guarantee his departure from the country. He was travelling on a Polish passport and was also carrying a Uruguay cedula of identity No. 513189 and a certificate for re-admission to Uruguay issued on August 31, 1945. (S) (C)

Accompanied by his brother, suspect took up residence at the Hotel Geneve in Room 195 and thereafter contacted on the same day one Lic. GONZALO SEBASTIAN, a local Mexican attorney. (S) (C)

It was determined that ZAYDMAN, at the present time, has established a perfume manufacturing business at Montevideo, Uruguay, which is called "Perfumerias Roty Monte Carlo, S.A." located at Rambla Wilson 503 in that city. He is also reported to be the proprietor of another factory known as "Perfumeria Hughes Guerlain" also located in Montevideo. (S) (C)

Other information concerning ZAYDMAN indicates that in 1938 he was residing in Monaco and had a perfume business known as "Establecimientos Roty, S.A." In October 1941 he left Europe for Uruguay where he formed the aforementioned perfumery. (S) (C)

In Mexico ZAYDMAN has a representative of his perfume business "The Companie Industrial y Distribudora, S.A." whose offices are located at Calle Humboldt 42, Mexico, D. F. (S) (C)

A full time surveillance was maintained on ZAYDMAN during his stay in Mexico; however, it was determined that he contacted only his aforementioned commercial representatives and Lic. GONZALO SEBASTIAN. All during this period his alleged brother accompanied him and resided with him at the Hotel Geneve. (S) (C)

It was further determined that ZAYDMAN has employed Lic. GONZALO SEBASTIAN to arrange the legal documents for the establishment of a local factory for the manufacturing of perfume in Mexico which, however, will continue to be distributed by the aforementioned "Companie Industrial y Distribudora, S.A." (S) (C)

"Please call us immediately upon arrival. Did you talk with Milliken re petroleum cork." The telegram was signed ANNISON, FORTRADE, New York City.

Special Agent J. MYERS COLE at Portland, Maine, ascertained that the subject's plane on December 7, 1945 landed at Portland, Maine at 5:20 PM. The subject deplaned and went directly to the Portland railway station where he purchased a ticket on an 11:55 PM train from Portland, Maine, for Moncton, New Brunswick.

Special Agent COLE ascertained that the subject did take this train and he was not observed to make any contacts while at the city of Portland on December 7, 1945. At 10:25 PM he sent the following telegram "To ALICE CURRIE, 87 John Street, Moncton, New Brunswick. Grounded here. Taking train, arriving Saturday PM. Love -Lauch."

The writer ascertained that the subject had booked passage via Flight #5, Northeast Airlines on Sunday, December 9, 1945. He left Moncton, New Brunswick, at 3 PM, arrived at Bangor at 4:35 PM, left Bangor at 5:05 PM and arrived in Boston at 6:58 PM. He left Boston at 7:20 PM en route to New York. He was observed by the above named agents at each of the stopping points and he did not contact anyone or send any messages.

MICHAEL GREENBERG

The writer's reference report on page nine reflects that the subject MICHAEL GREENBERG is a member of the Executive Board of Indusco Incorporated. Information in the files of the Boston Field Division reflects that Indusco Incorporated is an effort to develop the cooperative movement in Chinese industry. The "New Republic" for February 23, 1942 printed an article "The Rise of Indusco" by NYM WALES. In the article it is stated that the Chinese banks and the Chinese Government are becoming increasingly suspicious that Indusco is being used as a transmission belt for Communism. NYM WALES is a self-alleged founder among others of Indusco Incorporated. Her true name is Mrs. EDGAR PARKS SNOW nee HELEN FOSTER and she is the subject of a pending Security Matter (C) case, New Haven origin. Reference press reports reflect that the Chinese Government has refused to admit EDGAR PARKS SNOW into China as a correspondent and associate editor of the Saturday Evening Post.

The foregoing has been set forth for the completion of the file.

Information was further received that the master locator file contains the names of individuals previously assigned to Ft. Sam Houston, as well as those presently assigned. The name most similar to OLNER was that of Staff Sergeant RICHARD FREDERICK OLNEY.

Colonel J. L. LANGEVIN, Head of the G-2 Division, Fourth Army, made available the record file for OLNEY, which reflected that OLNEY, Army Serial Number 35347696, formerly of 2473 Hollywood Avenue, Toledo, Ohio, was inducted into the U. AT KELLY FIELD, TEXAS

Major HOOVER, Provost Marshal, furnished the information that the records at Kelly Field contained no information concerning Corporal REGINALD GARRETT of 2284 Quartermaster Truck Company; however, Major HOOVER stated that a record had been located pertaining to Corporal REGINALD R. GARRETT, ASN 37707860, who was attached to the 2260 Quartermaster Truck Company while stationed at Kelly Field. The records indicated that GARRETT was transferred September 28, 1944 from Herbert Smart Airport, Macon, Georgia, to Kelly Field, and that he was transferred from Kelly Field January 21, 1945. His present address was given as APO 18093, care of Postmaster, New York City. No further information concerning GARRETT was obtainable, since his file had been transferred to the office of the Adjutant General, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C. HOOVER stated that a portion of the file information could be obtained from the Adjutant General, and that the service record itself could be obtained from GARRETT'S Commanding Officer who could be reached through APO 18093, care of Post Master, New York City.

Major HOOVER further stated that telephone extension 5956 had been disconnected only a few days previously. The extension had been located in CO building 1351, which was occupied by Squadron RE, 4121 Base Unit, HOOVER mentioned that the quartermaster truck company to which GARRETT was assigned was a portion of the 4121 Base Unit which was composed entirely of negro soldiers. As a consequence, HOOVER believed that GARRETT was a negro.

Re: NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER, was, ET AL
ESPIONAGE (R)
12/21/87

Dear Sir:

With reference to the investigation of ALBERT EUGENE KAHN, Confidential Informant GREGORY has advised that she was introduced to ALBERT KAHN by GOLOS at KAHN's home in January, 1942. The informant states that KAHN is a Communist Party member; that he supplied GOLOS directly, and through her, with copies of "The Hour" as well as information concerning the Anti-Defamation League and the Ukrainian Nationalist Movement. GREGORY states that she saw KAHN last in the spring of 1943.

KAHN is regarded as a key figure in the Communist Party by the New York Office and is presently active as a sponsor or speaker in numerous front organizations of the Communist Party. In addition to this, he is president of the Jewish People's Fraternal Order (IWO) and has been the co-author with MICHAEL SAYERS of two books - namely "Sabotage" and "The Plot Against the Peace", which deal with subversive activities in the United States. KAHN is also a contributor of magazine articles, some of which have appeared in "Readers' Scope" and "New Currents" at frequent intervals.

KAHN is presently residing at White Hill Road, Yorktown Heights, New York. This is a rural area located in Westchester County, about forty-five miles from New York City. The physical setup of this area is such that it is felt that a physical surveillance would be difficult to institute and due to conditions, its productivity would not warrant such a procedure.

A mail cover is currently being maintained on KAHN and a technical surveillance of his residence has been installed. In view of these facts, it is felt that this will be sufficient coverage on the activities of KAHN at this time.
